RECOMBINANT PROTEINS

Native Proteins at Creative BioMart

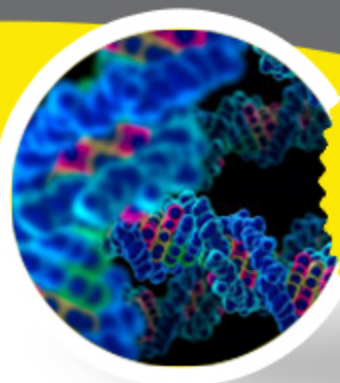

Creative BioMart aims to provide researchers with high quality products that help obtain reliable and consistent results. We wish our researchers could spend more time on thinking about the implications rather than worrying about the validity of their results.

Creative BioMart manufactures native proteins obtained from proper organisms and unaltered by outer factors such as heat, chemicals and enzyme reaction to retain the naturally folded state. With natural structure and functional activities, native proteins are able to be used by scientists in a wide range of applications such as protein functional assays, ELISA kits, Western Blot, Immunoprecipitation, etc.
